SHOUTS AND SONGS.

The London fire insurance laws make fireworks impossible, and the city lacked the blaze of illumination characteristic of American cities during similar rejoicings. The Britisher, therefore, relies upon lung power, and from St. Paul's cathedral to Westminster abbey and up through Piccaully to Hyde park there was a Niagara roar incessant rising and fulling hours of the as sant, rising and falling hours after as the surging mass poured through Lonlon's thoroughfares.

There was a lack of pyrotechnic glare,

There was a lack of pyrotechnic glare, but every cab boy and every 'bus man in London had a union jack fluttering from his whip; and the Stars and Stripes were by no means lacking. Pat-ons of four-wheelers were not content to ride inside the vehicles, and tops were crowded with flag-waving, cheering, sprawling enthusiasts.

At Carlton hotel, which is filled with Americans, the bands played "Marching Through Georgia," which has been recently adapted to an English song entitled "Marching to Pretoria." "Dixie" and other American airs were played.

NEWS TO MRS. BADEN-POWELL. Ten thousand people stood in front of Mrs. Baden-Yowell's house in St. George's place, cheering and singing, and a score of cabs brought congratu-lations. Miss Baden-Powell, the colonel's sister, said: "The same tale has been brought us many times during the last anxious months. The war office has promised us the earliest information. We only hope it is true." Latar in the evening Col. Baden-Powell's mother sent word that she had retired and that if anything more came she was not to be disturbed until morning. The boys of the Charterbouse school, where Col. Baden-Powell was educated, were aroused from sleep by the news and the institution quickly became a veritable pandemonium of noise and

MESSAGE TO MAPERING'S DE-FENDER.

As soon as the information of the relief was received the lord mayor, Mr. A. J. Newton, sent the following dispatch to Col. Baden-Powell: "The citizens of London are relieved. They re-toice in the good news received. You gallant defense will long live in British annals. Cable me what money is wanted for the needs of the garrison and inhabitants after long privations.

In unrestrained jubilations the pro-vinces were not behind the metropolis Although London had the start by a few minutes, the great industrial and surrounding towns soon burst into p triotic demonstrations. Bells clashed their steeples; village bands turned ou and people gathered in the squares to chant fervidly, "God Save the Queen." From all parts of the empire comes the same story, Bombay, Hongkong Colombia and the Australian cities are rejoicing. Continental cities, as the press telegrams abundantly testify, received the news sadly. SPREADING THE NEWS QUICKLY.

Under the head of "How the News was Received," the Daily Chronicle says: "The telegram to the Associated Press from Pretoria, the historic dis-patch announcing the relief of Mafe king, was sent from the capital of the Transvaal at 11:35 a, m., May 18th, it reached the London office at 9:17 p. m and was instantly dispatched to every quarter of the globe. By 10:30 p. m had come a response from fur-off To ronto, describing the reception of the

This is not surprising, in view of the fact that four minutes after the re-ceipt of the telegram it was in the As-sociated Press office in New York, where it was forwarded to the further limits of the North American continent. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain cailed at the war offer after midnight and received a tremendous ovation.

DEFENSE WITHOUT PARALLEL That not only Mafeking, but the whole United Kingdom is relieved is tenanted in by the atterance of the nothing papers. The Daily Telegraph says: "Never will England forget the happy, hopeful theli that came to he when Col Baden-Powell said. "Mafe k's connot be taken by sitting down and looking at it.' There is no ad-vancement which the nation would not hall as a fair reward for the brilliant capacity, cheerfulness and iron cour-age of the hero of the empire."

The Times says: "The demonstra-tions last evening in London have had no parallel in recent times. Nor was this surprising. There has been noth-ing like the defense of Mafeking in modern history. Kars and Lucknow were fine examples of valor and en-durance and resourcefulness; but the means of defense in those cases was infinitely greater than what was at the disposition of Col. Baden-Powell and his valiant comrades. From the mention of laagers in the Pretoria dispatch it is understood here that prior to the raising of the siege of Mafeking, the Boer laagers around that place were vigorously bombarded by the British relief column, and the burghers practically compelled to aban-

REJOICING IN CANADA.

New York, May 19.—According to the specials received by New York papers from various points throughout Canada there is general rejoicing among the English speaking residents of the Do-minion over the relief of Mafeking. Montreal was alive last night with joy over the news. Numerous torchlight processions and union jacks were everywhere to be seen. Kruger has been everywhere to be seen. Kruger has been hanged in effigy in a dozen different places in Montreal and half a dozen images of Baden-Powell were carried on the shoulders of the crowd.

A bonfire was built in front of Queen Victoria's statue on Victoria square and the city echoed with "Rule Britannia," and "God Sava the Queen."

The Barrymore peerage will be revived in favor of the Right Hon. Arthur Hugh Smith Barry, chairman of the National Union of Conservative associations. It became extinct in 1824 with the death of the sixteenth Earl Barrymore, who was one of the largest land owners in Ireland. Mr. Smith Barry maintains that he is the rightful Barca Barrymore. It is one of the ancient Irish peerages and was in existence long before it was formally recognized by Henry VIII. The Right Hon. Arthur Hugh Smith Barry, who was born in 1843 was first married to born in 1843 was first married to a daughter of Lord Dunraven, who died in 1884, and in 1889 he married Mrs. Elizabeth Post of New York, widow of Mr. Arthur Post and daughter of Gen. American interest in the Derby was stimulated this week by the excellent reports of Mr. James R. Keene's Dis-guise II. Those who recall the tragle end of Tod Sloan's mount on Holocaust in 1899 are watching with renewed in terest the developments of his Keene mount this year. While the prince of Wales' Diamond Jubilee has won the distinction of being no less than a two to one favorite and Mr. T. R. The Sportsman's well informed New-market correspondent says today: "Very useful Sir Fretful was bought for 610 guineas to lead Disguise II for the next ten days, and more important still, the American owner of Rensselaer, J. On learning his identity he excused himself, saying he "ought to wear better clothes so that people may be able to tell who you are." The Tailor, a newspaper, evident-ly agrees with the mason, for, in a sartorial criticism of the clothes repre-sented at this year's academy, it de-clares that the lapels of Mr. Carnegie's coat were clumsy, the edges very wobchine of the worst character.

SCOTTISH PIETY DISAPPEARING. Scotland is fast losing its reputation for staid piety. Last year's statistics, just issued, show the prisons were full just issued, show the prisons were full to overflowing, and that the officials were at their wits ends to know where to confine the culprits. The number of prisoners shows an increase of over six hundred, chiefly due to husbands attacking their wives, and indecent assaults which the commissioners declare spring from intemperance.

CROKER CUTS THE EXPRESS.

One of the curious features of the last few days is the persistency with which the Express has kept up a campaign against Mr. Richard Croker of New against Mr. Richard Croker of New York. Unlike the duke of Orleans, Mr. Croker remains serenely impassive, neither showing any signs of giving up his residence in England nor writing self-excusing letters. A correspondent wired him asking him if he had anything to say in reply to the Express, whereupon Mr. Crokoer wired back: "I don's know what you refer to. Am don't know what you refer to. Am well," apparently thinking that nothing more serious could come up than reiterated reports of his death.

England Keeps the Price Down Now, but Russia Proposes to Have a Change.

[Early Dispatches.]

Chicago, May 19.-The Record says: There is before the state department at Washington a plan submitted by the Russian government whereby Russia and the United States could dictate wheat prices for the world," said J. M. Flynn of San Francisco at the Auditorium hotel. Mr. Flynn is an agent of the Russian American company recently formed with a capital of $5,000,000, and has been in consultation with the Russian embassy in Washington for several weeks on matters pertaining to the company he represents. Continuing, Mr. Flynn said:

"This plan was submitted during Cleveland's second term, but it has rested without action till the present time. I know that the Russian government is anxious that its overtures be met by this country. The Trans-Siberian railthis country. The Trans-Siberian railroad develops a territory, the principal products of which are wheat and cotton. Russia believed that with the co-operation of this country her wheat and cotton, the principal items of export also of the United States, could bring much better prices. England, which is a manufacturing country and has to import wheat to feed her workers, has kept the price down, that iabor may be cheaper, and this has been of great detriment to Russia, Argentina and the United States. Russia's proposition was the result of the investigations made some time ago by M, De Witte, minister of finance, to dis-Vestigations made some time ago by M. De Witte, minister of finance, to discover the cause of the low price of wheat and cotton. They showed to the satisfaction of the government that this low price was not due to increased acreage nor lessened consumption, but was the direct result of American compatition."

The letter contained the state-ment: "The matter has already driven ment: "The matter has already driven my already overworked brain off its balance. McClellan Might Carry Thut, and Without it a Democrat Cannot be Elected.

[Early Dispatches.]

New York, May 19 .- A special to the Herald from Washington says that a meeting of the friends of Congressman George B. McClellan, son of "Little Mac," the former Federal general who was the Democratic candidate for President in 1864, was held at Washington last hight for the purpose of urging the nomination of Congressman George B. McClellan for second place on the ticket with Bryan. It was urged that Mr. McClellan is the best man to strengthen the Democratic ticket, in those sections of the country where Mr. Bryan is weak, for the reason that he commands the confidence of the con-servative New York Democracy, inasmuch as during his campaigns for Con-gress in 1896 and 1898, when a candidate for Congress, he did not go on record either for or against the Chicago plat-
